

Saxby of the Herald, says the girl baby found in the well at Tontogany was "a plump little FELLOW." Peculiar sort of girl, that.

Memorial day (May 30) comes on Monday this year. As yet the programme of exercises has not been prepared for the day in Perryburg.

It is stated that the State of Wyoming, where women enjoy an equal right of suffrage with men, will send two women delegates to the Minneapolis Convention.

We have noticed that when a woman asks to be taken to the silk counter she speaks in a much louder voice than when she asks to look at the calico remnants.—Ex.

The Auditors of counties through which the D. & M. R. R. passes had a meeting in Toledo for the purpose of assessing the company's property. The rolling stock was assessed at $1,800 per mile.

The Georgia watermelon crop is reported to be in splendid condition; the vines are strong and healthy with an abundant setting; 20,000 acres are in cultivation, and the product anticipated is 9,000 car loads. An early ripening and harvest is looked for.

To be a lady or gentleman it is not necessary to observe all the nonsensical rules of etiquette, but it is absolutely necessary to have a regard for the feelings of everybody—aristocrat or beggar; to treat everybody kindly, and to refrain from rudeness of speech and action.—Ex.

A bill was introduced in the U. S. senate entitled "A bill for the protection of the silver mining industry." It provides that the secretary of the treasury, in the purchase of silver under the provisions of the act of 1890, shall purchase such silver bullion only as is produced from mines within the United States or from ores smelted within the United States.

Bob Ingersoll says that life is a narrow vale between the cold and barren peaks of two eternities. We strive in vain to look beyond the heights. We cry aloud and the only answer is the echo of our wailing cry. From the voiceless lips of the unreplying dead there comes no word; but in the night of death hope sees a star and listening love can hear the rustle of a wing.

Straw hats will soon be seen, as they will envelope the dude's waist, awnings will soon be put up, soda water will soon sizz, milk shakes will soon be shook, worms will be dug for bait, and store boxes on the corner will groan under the weight of the loafer, for spring, mild, muddy, ethereal spring is here in all its glory, sunshine, flowers and microbes of early summer fever.—X

The young men of the country who are to become voters in this year of 1892, and cast their ballots for or against the next President of the United States, who will be a Republican, should not commit the great mistake of uniting themselves to the Democratic party. Join yourself to the party which contends for protection to American productions, and for honest money.

The man who spreads his laughter through his life—before a late breakfast; when he misses a train; when his wife goes visiting and he has to eat a cold supper; the man who can laugh when he finds a button off his shirt; when the furnace fire goes out in the night, and both of the twins come down with the measles at the same time—he's the fellow that's needed.—Ex. And he's the one who will never be found.

A wise woman once said there were three follies of men that always amused her. The first was climbing trees to shake the fruit down, when if they would wait long enough, the fruit would fall of itself; the second was going to war to kill each other, when if they only waited they would die naturally; and the third was that they should run after women, when if they did not do so the women would be sure to run after them.

Whitelaw Reid, on taking the gavel to preside over the New York Republican convention gave some excellent advice, which is good enough for Ohio Republicans to adopt, and to prosecute their campaign to success thereon. Mr. Reid said:

"Let us make it a speaking canvass, with our orators in every school house. Let us make it a reading canvass, with our documents and our newspapers whitening the land. Let us make it a clean canvass, avoiding mere abuse of our opponents, avoiding brag and bluster and paltry personalities, let us have a straight forward, decent, manly, red-hot fight, altogether, for our faith, and we shall win now as we always have won when we fought that way."

Calvin S. Brice has got the Presidential itch and got it bad. Should he chance to receive the Democratic nomination he will get the requisite scratching to relieve his distress.—Ex.

Nelbling Post, No. 30, Weston, O., unanimously presents the name of their comrade, Rev. John Tenney, for department chaplain. He entered the service June 17, 1861, as musician in the 18th O. V. I., afterward in 36th O. V. I., and served to the close of the war. He is now pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Weston, Wood county, Ohio.

Victoria Woodhull nee Martin and Tennessee Claflin, nee Lady Cook, both on a time prominent in New York city, now the wives of titled Englishmen, are now in Chicago as English lady commissioners in interest of the World's Fair. Victoria Woodhull Martin announces herself as a candidate for President of the United States. Her husband has money to squander in this chimerical woman posturing. Let them have their fun.

Pretty Polly of the Sentinel is of a very jealous disposition. Last week we referred to the fact that the average country editor was now enjoying the luxury of pork and greens, and Polly's jealousy was aroused and he insinuates that we obtained the pork in a dishonest manner. That we were enable to enjoy such luxuries while Polly is confined to greens alone without the pork is more than he could let pass without giving us a stab.

Petty Thieving. A subscriber living on Fifth St. says that though it is customary to ask through the JOURNAL, the return of stolen property, and though these frequent heavy rains make him feel sorely the loss of a quantity of stone which served as a protection to the foundation of his house and his fence, he will refrain from asking a return of the same, realizing that the necessities must indeed have been great that led to so base an act as the stealing of such a commodity from such a place.

Neither will he demand the return of a quantity of lumber which disappeared from his premises some time ago, as unlike the stone it was combustible and may have warmed a family or cooked their food.

He trusts the depredators will appreciate his forbearance in the matter and refrain from similar acts in future.

The Fire Company. For some time past a number of young men have been working hard to perfect the organization of a fire company in this place, but have had slow work and have met with many discouragements, but are now getting in shape to do some work. They have just secured their new uniforms consisting of rubber coats, helmets, and belts and are now ready for active service, and, according to the statement of Wm. Scott, the foreman, they can scale the highest building in a few seconds, and carry down the chimney without injuring a brick, and the people can now cancel their insurance on feather beds and mattresses, as these articles are in no danger of being destroyed since the fire ladders have received their new working clothes.

Cardily speaking the boys have done much good work in getting the fire apparatus in working order and the company is so organized that, should a fire occur, they will be in condition to do considerable good work. They feel very grateful to the Council, the citizens and all who have contributed toward the purchase of their new outfit. The boys are deserving of all they have received.

Wedding Bells. The residence of Adam Snyder near Stony Ridge, was the scene of a very happy wedding on Thursday last, when George J. Hazel and Miss Amelia Snyder, both popular young people, were made one. Rev. Borne performed the marriage ceremony, and nearly a hundred guests sat down to the well filled tables among whom were the following from abroad: Mrs. and Miss Gartman from Cleveland; Fred Myers and Miss Clara Hepplar, of Edgerton, Mrs. Christ and daughter, Mrs. Nopper and son, Mrs. Huber and son; and Mamie Huber of Toledo. W. S. Lyon wife, and son of Fostoria; Mrs. George Hoffmann and daughter, C. Hoffmann and wife; G. W. Hoffmann and wife; and Miss Katie and Mamie Hoffmann of Perryburg; and Jacob Snyder wife and family of Woodville. The bride wore a beautiful gown of Heliotrope cloth, and carried roses. The groom wore the conventional suit of black. They were attended by Fred Hoffmann and Miss Anna Snyder, and were the recipients of many costly and elegant gifts. The best wishes of their many friends follow them to their new home just south of the Ridge where they will begin housekeeping at once.

[The JOURNAL wishes to add congratulations and well wishes to the popular young people.]

OHIO WOOL GROWERS

Called Upon to Make Exhibitions at the World's Fair.

Bellefontaine, O., May 5, 1892.

To the Wool Growers of Ohio:

The World's Columbian Exposition will open at Chicago May 1st, 1893, and close October 30th, 1893. It will be a department of agriculture, in which will be exhibited the best specimens of every variety of wool from all the countries of the world. Australia and New South Wales will make wonderful exhibits, and Ohio can surpass them if flock-masters will do their duty to themselves and the state. Now is your chance to demonstrate that we are able to procure finer and better wool than our foreign rivals. The future of our sales and prices will be affected by the exhibit we make of Ohio wools at the Columbian Exposition.

If we fail in this contest for supremacy, all the agricultural industries of our states and territories will suffer injurious consequences from which we may not recover in many years.

As you are about to take this year's clip, see that you select the choicest fleeces for exhibition at Chicago. See that they are in prime condition before shearing, and then put up the fleeces in better condition than ever before.

Quality you have, condition you must secure by extra care. Read what the American consul at Sydney, New South Wales, G. W. Griffin, in his report to the department of state, March 23d, 1891, says: "The samples of American wools and ESPECIALLY THOSE GROWN IN THE STATE OF OHIO, sent to the Melbourne International Exposition, were admitted by experts to be far superior to anything of the kind ever grown in these (Australasian) colonies." (Consular reports No. 128, May, 1891, p. 112.)

I most earnestly invite wool growers to aid in the good work of the exposition. The name and address of every wool grower will be exhibited with his fleeces.

A very liberal line of premiums has been offered by the board of managers of World's fair for Ohio, so that you have not only the prospect of immediate reward, but future reputation and profits for every point of excellence produced.

Most of the Ohio wool is met with the competition of Australian wool, which is imported skirted, and in the best possible condition.

Notify D. J. Ryan, executive commissioner, Columbus, Ohio, that you intend to complete for some of the many premiums offered, and he will send you blanks, premium list and other necessary information.

WILLIAM LAWRENCE, Pres. Ohio Wool Growers' Ass'n. W. N. COWDEN, Sec'y.

Premiums. No person is entitled to receive a premium unless he pays his subscription to June 30, 93.
